Checklist: Communicate your idea quickly and clearly to funders

Making some notes in advance can help funders clearly understand your idea, clarify exactly what you need for success, and make the best first impression.

I am / we are:

My / our contact details are:

The change we want to make is (choose which ones apply to you):

- What will be different for people who will take part in your project or idea?
- What is the problem you're trying to solve?
- Who and where are the people who will benefit?
- How do you know that they need or will use this?

The steps involved in making this work will be:

Think about

- Planning
- Preparation
- Delivery
- Changing things to work better
- Evaluation
- Looking to the future

To make this change successfully we need (what will make your idea successful?):

Think about the different elements that you need to make this work. These might include:

- Publicity
- Materials
- Venue (hire, or proportion of premises)
- Volunteers (expenses, travel, recruitment):
- Staff
- Monitoring and evaluation
- Enabling people to take part
- Management

We are asking for:

(Think about the costs for everything you've described above, rather than just a total cost)
